

Successful Employees Make Successful Businesses

NSPE Enterprise Program

National Society of Professional Engineers®

Your company seeks top engineers. But today's job market is fiercely competitive, and keeping them on board means providing the best benefits. Help keep your staff engaged, inspired, and educated through the NSPE Enterprise Program.

What is the Enterprise Program?

This program allows your company to sponsor NSPE membership for all of its eligible engineers and create specialized benefits for them. No two organizations are the same. Through the Enterprise program, NSPE will develop a package option that best suits your organization's needs.

Why should your company enroll its engineers in NSPE?

Employing the best engineers gives you a competitive edge. By joining NSPE at a corporate level, your clients will recognize your company's commitment to the ethical and competent practice of engineering and will trust that your top engineers provide the best service available. Your employees will recognize your commitment to their professional growth and are more likely to stay longer. The Enterprise program will provide your engineers with maximum access, value, and convenience to all NSPE has to offer.

What are the benefits of Enterprise Membership?

Engineers can receive:

- Information on industry trends through NSPE publications and Web sites
- Continuing education credits in person, online, or through self-study programs to maintain their PE licenses
- Networking opportunities locally and across the country with engineers of all disciplines
